Bridgeway Academy Now Offering Pre-K Program

All-Inclusive Curriculum Kit includes free and premium options

CATASAUQUA, PA — June 5, 2020

Bridgeway Academy has launched a new program for fall designed to excite and engage the youngest of learners: Discover! Pre-K!

The all-inclusive homeschool program provides parents with everything they need to teach their four and five year olds: 32 weeks of curriculum, teacher's guide, milestones, and more. The program is research-based and aligned to Preschool Learning Standards, giving parents peace of mind that their learner is getting the best of the best in preschool education. The curriculum is available for free on Bridgeway's website. Parents can also upgrade to a paid version of the program, which features additional activities, lesson resources, and engagement tools.

"There's nothing like being able to take control of your child's education from the start, guiding them as they discover all of the things around them," says Jessica Parnell, CEO of Bridgeway Academy. "Our new preschool program is designed so that children learn without knowing they are learning, and start to develop a love of learning. We're thrilled to be able to guide and support parents at this critical stage."
